Conscious Discipline®: Beginning implementation series

Learning to implement Conscious Discipline with fidelity takes time and commitment. A desire to personally change is essential, as is willingness to make mistakes while learning. This series of one-day trainings will step you through the Neuroscience behind Conscious Discipline, the Powers (adult beliefs), Skills and School Family™ structures, rituals and routines as you begin your year one of implementation. Full implementation, with fidelity, can take three years or longer. This is a great place to begin your journey or a place to review and refresh. This is a series that people can participate in more than once.

From the beginning, you are asked to make a commitment to attend all 6 days in this series. Administrators are welcome and highly encouraged to participate. Your participation will benefit others in the group. We will be creating our own adult School Family. I look forward to assisting, coaching and encouraging you on this journey.

Wishing you well,

Karen Hickman

Loving Guidance Associate & Conscious Discipline® Certified Instructor
